

Women Don't Get Pregnant

©2015 Family God's Way

Women don't get pregnant. Fathers and mothers conceive. Conception creates an unbreakable union between one man, one woman and their children. It has always been and will always be a package deal. Fathers and mothers who realize their pregnancy is the birth of a family will respond differently than those who merely think that women get pregnant. When people begin to understand what conception really means:

- The sanctity of human life will be honored
- The hearts of fathers will turn to their families
- Biblical covenant marriage will be honored

The Advent of Parenthood

'To be a parent, or not to be', that is the question. Or, at least, that is the question many pregnancy resource center clients are asking themselves.

Beyond the biological, what is conception? Conception is the advent of parenthood. Can people procreate without becoming parents? Once conception occurs, parents can't choose whether they will be parents or not. Parents they are. What many parents are really asking is, 'Will we permit our children to live and if we do, what kind of parents will we be?'

Conception is Family

Conception is the inseparable joining of at least three people. It is a relationship that cannot be undone. Once a father, always a father. Once a mother, always a mother. Parents aren't just birthing babies, they are birthing families.

Conception is a Cycle

In 2011, the human population topped seven billion, double the number of people that were on this planet just 45 years ago. The world population will top 10 billion during the next two generations. And still, even at 10 billion, we will all still have these two things in common.

- We will all have fathers and mothers
- We will all be vulnerable as children to the circumstances into which we were born.

As children transition into adults, they begin to crave adult companionship. This craving leads to increasingly intimate relationships between men and women. Intimacy in turn, leads to men and women conceiving children who will be vulnerable to whatever circumstances their parents cultivate. This is the family cycle. It is the most powerful and influential cycle in the world.

By helping life ministry clients understand their inextricable involvement in the family cycle and by helping them found and grow Biblical relationships and lifestyles, we can positively impact family cycles today and in future generations.

Birth of a Family harnesses the exponential, self-compounding power of the family cycle. By using the power of the cycle itself, Birth of a Family is turning the cycle around, one household at a time.
